

PROTOTYPE 1 COVER SHEET

FORTHCOMING FEATURES

1. Insert an image carousel on the homepage to showcase multiple food items
2. Update menu items to reflect restaurant's new offerings (pending content from Jay)
3. Update all images using content from Izakaya 52 (pending images from Jay)
4. Update restaurant's tagline with content from Jay
5. Include links to Yelp and other social media for the restaurant
6. Integrate with Google Maps API for the contact page -- currently using a static image
7. Update font files to ensure font is available on all devices
8. Fix a few small bugs in the CSS:
 - a. With the accordion menu when resizing
 - b. With the footer when viewing from a mobile device (box appears around the phone number)
 - c. With the footer when resizing to mobile size (white background on the menu page)

FALLBACK PLANS

1. If we are unable to gather high-quality images for the menu, we will reconsider delivering a site that allows users to view menu options
 - a. We will ask Jay to consider offering a prize to customers who submit high-quality images of the food (potentially offer a free food item for each picture)
2. Jay is planning to revamp his menu, but is not sure when he will be able to provide us with the updated content
 - a. We will create a site using the old content for the time being. If Jay finishes the new menu in time, it will be a relatively quick fix to our website. If there is a delay, we will still have a fully implemented website to present to the class.
